

COMMONWEALTH COUNCIL ON AGING
BEST PRACTICES AWARDS 2017-2021

Established in 2006, the Best Practices Awards recognize and encourage the replication of model programs, particularly those that foster aging in place, livable communities and home and community-based services. With financial support from Dominion Energy, the Council encourages the development of these innovative programs.

2021 BEST PRACTICES AWARDS

FIRST PLACE ($5,000): Bay Aging (BA) Stable Foundations for Older Adults Experiencing Homelessness. Focusing on housing as the foundation for successful outcomes of older adults, BA's housing opportunities provide safety and stability for older adults experiencing homelessness, ensuring that the plethora of support services can be maintained to increase positive outcomes.

BA has bridged the gap between Area Agencies on Aging (AAA) and the homeless services' Continuum of Care (CoC) to provide diverse housing opportunities for people exiting homelessness. In 2018, BA's age- and income-restricted rental housing worked with the local homeless services' CoC, the Northern Neck Middle Peninsula Housing Coalition, to develop a homeless preference. BA was the first U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Section 202 Supportive Housing for the Elderly owner/manager to be approved to implement a homeless preference in Virginia.

BA can quickly identify older adults experiencing homelessness and match the person to unique housing that meets their needs, limiting the amount of time that someone spends homeless, reducing trauma, and regaining health measures. Once transitioned into permanent housing, older adults benefit from health assessments, Meals on Wheels, employment training, assistance with mainstream resource applications, insurance counseling, and transportation. This multidisciplinary continuum is poised to make homelessness rare, brief, and nonrecurring, while supporting older adults at every stage of independence.

Since 2018, 31 new tenants have moved into BA's housing, and an additional 189 older adults have been served by BA's homeless response system. The average wait time for placement in BA rental housing currently is 59 days, a 25% decrease since 2018 when the program started. Of the 31 older adults served by BA's housing, only one has exited to an unknown location, evidence of sustained positive outcomes of tenants.

SECOND PLACE AWARD ($3,000): Jefferson Area Board for Aging (JABA) Friends in Schools Helping (FISH) Program. JABA has been serving the needs of seniors and their families in Charlottesville and five surrounding counties for 45 years. Since 2004, FISH has been JABA's intergenerational school-based mentoring program that provides volunteer mentors to students who need individualized attention. The FISH program recruits, screens, and trains volunteers to help students with reading, math, writing, STEM, and art, as well as often working with English learner students and assisting children with their emotional well-being. Students working with FISH mentors demonstrate improved academic achievement, confidence, social skills, and trust.

FISH mentors now serve all across JABA's service area, including Charlottesville City and Albemarle, Fluvanna, Greene, Louisa, and Nelson counties. The FISH program serves students in a variety of settings, but due to COVID-19, mentoring moved to a virtual format with one-on-one or small groups. During the 2019-2020 school year, 58 FISH volunteers provided support to over 1,370 students in 21 schools, and reported providing over 2,250 hours of individualized mentoring attention to students, a value of over $61,000 to the local communities. Looking ahead, the FISH program is excited to welcome 22 new volunteers and several returning FISH volunteers to provide vital support to students during the pandemic.

THIRD PLACE AWARD ($2,000): Inova Health System Medical House Calls (MHC) Program. The MHC program provides in-home primary care services to older adults above the age of 65 and who are homebound. MHC opened its doors in 2017 and has continued to expand the provision of quality in-home care services to our community ever since.

MHC's mission is to allow older adults to receive care in their most comfortable environment, their homes. This also helps to support caregivers, reduce caregiver burden, and increase the overall wellness of patients and their support system. Through an interdisciplinary model, patients receive quality medical care, including coordination of in-home diagnostic testing and wraparound services such as social work support. The MHC program currently serves approximately 700 older adults throughout most of Fairfax County, Alexandria, and areas in eastern Loudoun County.

In 2020, MHC performed just under 9,000 encounters with patients. As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, the MHC program has seen an extensive increase in in-home care services. Between January-March 2021, the Medical House Calls program administered 1,260 doses of the COVID vaccine resulting in a total of 655 vaccinated homebound older adults and family caregivers in our community. Looking ahead, the MHC program will soon be expanding to support Medicaid patients and uninsured members in the community, building on a steadfast commitment to ensuring that all community members have access to quality healthcare regardless of their ability to pay.

2021 HONORABLE MENTIONS

Senior Services of Southeastern Virginia (SSSEVA) The Art of Healthy Aging: Hosted since 2014, The Art of Healthy Aging Forum & Expo® brings together 600+ seniors and 100+ sponsors and vendors for a five-hour period at the Virginia Beach Convention Center. The live event components traditionally includes an exhibition hall featuring 60-70+ vendors, a “Salute to Caregivers” recognition, and a series of concurrent workshops that provide older adults and caregivers in SSEVA’s coverage region information, programs, and resources to promote healthy, active aging in their own homes and communities.

Pivoting in response to the pandemic, and with the support of corporate sponsors, SSEVA turned event into a virtual three-part series, with episodes airing approximately two weeks apart between mid-August and the end of September. Each of the three virtual episodes (30-40 minutes) consisted of: A Welcome by our CEO; three to four expert speakers; one interactive movement option; and musical entertainment. The videos were shared on SSEVA’s website and multiple internet platforms, including VIMEO, YouTube, and Facebook, as well as via cable television through partnerships with multiple city public access stations throughout SSEVA’s service area, which ran each video multiple times after the initial air dates.

The impact of the live Art of Healthy Aging Forum & Expo® has grown in its first six years, from 250 persons in 2014 to 600 seniors and caregivers at the last live event in the fall of 2019. In its seventh year (2020) and its first year as a virtual event, that reach more than tripled to at least 2,204 non-duplicative households across multiple platforms including digital and public access television.

Fairfax County Department of Neighborhood and Community Services and ServiceSource Inc. Virtual Center for Active Adults (VCAA): When the pandemic began, the Fairfax County senior centers closed in March 2020. In an effort to combat isolation and support positive social connections during this time, the VCAA was initiated through a partnership of 20 government agencies and non-profits, led by one county agency (Neighborhood and Community Services) and one community-based organization (ServiceSource).

The VCAA is a virtual platform that offers older adults, caregivers, and people with disabilities access to live classes, on-demand programs, and self-directed activities, and provides COVID-19 information and referral supports. The VCAA encourages older adults to join live, interactive programs and engage with other older adults while also offering prerecorded videos on demand for older adults to watch on their own schedules. Staff doing Wellness Checks call and check in on participants. Additional resources and information needed to support older adults' overall health, wellbeing, and aging in place are provided. VCCA is a free resource that allows the older adult community to stay safely and actively connected during COVID-19 and beyond.

The VCAA has had 1,509 group activities have been led since starting the virtual center and served 27,514 (duplicated count) virtual center participants, reaching an average of over 4,300 page views per month. An overwhelming majority of participants report that they felt participating in the VCAA impacted their: involvement in meaningful and healthy activities, connection to the community, and knowledge of available services in the area. Through the partnership, the VCAA team continues to enhance social and recreational opportunities for people in the community and welcomes individuals of varying abilities to join.

Appalachian Area for Senior Citizens (AASC) Home Repair Program: AASC's Home Repair Program performs essential repairs to homes of older adults, disabled individuals and their families to attain or maintain a safe living environment and allows them to stay in their homes as long as possible with dignity and grace. Repairs range from roofs, heat pumps, and installing ramps to showers and other bathroom improvements, repairing floors and other such renovations.

With a Class C licensed contractor on staff, AASC leverages partnerships with Clinch Independent Living Services, Rural Development, Appalachian Service Project, local departments of social services, and local churches, as well as funding from the Older Americans Act, private donations, in-kind labor, and when possible, the USDA Rural Development Program, as well as other sources to complete the projects.

Since 2018, 50 projects have been completed, including 28 ramps constructed, 18 heat pumps replaced, 10 shower installations, 10 roofs replaced, 31 bathroom modifications, 9 porch and step repairs, 9 floor repairs, 4 sewage repairs, 5 mobile home roofs sealed, and 6 water heaters installed. Due to high demand, the Home Repair Program maintains a waiting list of individuals needing services.

Arlington Agency on Aging (AAA) Calling Angels Friendly Caller Program: To help address food insecurity and isolation during the COVID-19 pandemic, AAA, in partnership with Meals on Wheels Arlington, Meals on Wheels America, and Hilton Hotels, launched Calling Angels, a Friendly Caller program that provides meaningful connections to homebound and isolated older adults.

Prior to the pandemic, Meals on Wheels (MOW) delivered meals each weekday, but to help protect participants and volunteers, deliveries shifted to once per week. As many know, the MOW program is more than a meal; for many participants it is a lifeline and connection to the community. Social isolation and loneliness had been an ongoing concern for older adults prior to the pandemic, but with stay at home orders, technology needs, and limitations on travel, older adults were disproportionately impacted.

Through these invaluable partnerships, the Hilton Hotels Hospitality team was trained, and 40 Hilton staff began making calls to 90 MOW participants. For some participants, this conversation may be the only contact they receive. Volunteers help older adults remain engaged, valued and connected.

Since April 2020, volunteers and Hilton staff have made hundreds of phone calls to over 120 older adults. AAA has also engaged with area agencies on aging in Atlanta and San Diego to help them launch similar programs with their local MOW and Hilton hotels.

Senior Connections, The Capitol Area Agency on Aging *Benefits Enrollment

Center: Launched in 2019, the Benefits Enrollment Center (BEC) at Senior Connections helps Medicare beneficiaries enroll in benefit programs for which they are eligible. Trained staff assist in determining eligibility and applying for benefits that include Low Income Subsidy (LIS), Medicare Savings Programs (MSPs), Medicaid, Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP), Lifeline, and more.

Traditionally, Benefit Outreach Specialists have traveled throughout our area to assist clients rather than them having to come to us. During the quarantine period, however, Senior Connections pivoted to electronic and telephone contact. Clients can be referred to the BEC through a partner or as a self-referral. Referrals are received by phone, email, through our website and electronically through PeerPlace, a secure case management system. Upon receipt of a referral a Benefits Enrollment Specialist will reach out to a client to screen them for all possible benefits. If a client is determined to potentially be eligible for any benefit, the BEC will complete an application as well as provide support and follow-up through the determination and renewal process.

The BEC has established telephonic translation services through a language services provider to offer efficient service to individuals whose primary language is not English.

From January 1, 2019 until projected September 30, 2021, the BEC have assisted or will assist 1,150 individuals with 1,983 applications reaping more than $3,300,000 in benefits.

Volunteer Solutions' (VS) Virtual Social Visitor Program: This program provides opportunities for volunteers to engage in social visits with older adults, adults with disabilities, and caregivers. The program pivoted in response to the pandemic, and since late March 2020, volunteers have been conducting virtual social visits by phone or video conference technology instead of the previous in-person visits. VS has answered a community call to address isolation in the Fairfax area, specifically among participants of senior centers and adult day health centers and residents of nursing facilities. From October 1, 2020 to January 31, 2021, the VS virtual social visits program has served 88 participants. In addition to the virtual social visits, VS incorporated a new "Caring Cards" opportunity. Volunteers, including two Girl Scout troops, write generic cards and notes to the Fairfax County's senior center participants who have only had access to virtual programming during the pandemic. Senior center staff then attach the cards and notes to the participants' meals that are delivered each week. Since inception, over 650 cards have been shared with over 160 participants.

2020 BEST PRACTICES AWARDS

First Place Award ($5,000): Staples for Seniors and Fido's Pantry offers food assistance to homebound seniors and their cats or dogs. Seniors in rural areas expressed difficulty with affording and accessing grocery items, and many would give their food to their pets who also needed a reliable food source. Since launching the program, New River Valley Agency on Aging (NRVAOA) served 248 seniors each month with necessary groceries throughout all of Planning District Four. Fido's Pantry provides monthly pet food assistance and supplies to 87 of the households who access the food assistance. Volunteers assisting with the delivery process provide social interaction for isolated older adults, and also help identify additional needs and services for the clients. The program has a 96% client satisfaction rate, and has also been made available to seniors not affiliated with NRVAOA, but who are in the midst of a food crisis.

Second Place Award ($3,000): Jimmy's PetPals is a companion pet program developed at Sentara Martha Jefferson Hospital to help patients with dementia have a better hospital experience. The PetPals are Hasboro® "Joy for all Companion Pets," life-like robotic dogs and cats that exhibit animal-like behaviors. Abby Denby, Director of Patient Care Services, initially provided a robotic companion pet to her father who was struggling while hospitalized. The program was then expanded with financial support from the hospital's foundation and a grant from the Patient and Family Advisory Council. Now, any hospital staff member caring for a patient with dementia who is agitated, combative or depressed can obtain a companion pet for the patient. Jimmy's PetPals have benefited 30 patients at the hospital so far. Clinicians and hospital staff express that Jimmy's PetPals has reduced the use of patient restraints and improved patients' demeanors. Denby is beginning a study measuring patients' agitation levels, and restraint and antipsychotic use before and after receiving a PetPal, as well as analyzing feedback from clinical staff about their experiences caring for patients before and after receipt of a PetPal.

Third Place Award, tie ($1,000): The Arlington Agency on Aging (AAA) partnered with the Arlington's Addiction and Recovery Initiative (AARI) to deliver drug deactivation kits for older adults in the community to safely dispose medications. While exploring potential opportunities to expand the program and provide information about medication safety and drug deactivation kits, Arlington AAA partnered with Arlington Virginia Insurance and Counseling Assistance Program (VICAP) to offer Medication Safety for Older Arlingtonians. VICAP achieves this goal through community events where older adults receive medication safety education, assistance with Medicare and Medicare Part D prescription coverage and signup, information on the safe disposal of medications, and drug deactivation kits. The Medication Safety for Older Arlingtonians program advances the Arlington County's efforts toward realizing its Age Friendly Plan.

Third Place, tie ($1,000): Volunteer Solutions' Helping Hands Program, a program of Fairfax County Area Agency on Aging-Volunteer Solutions. In 2013, in honor of

COMMONWEALTH COUNCIL ON AGING BEST PRACTICES AWARDS 2017-2021

Older Americans Month, Volunteer Solutions created the Helping Hands Program (HH) to de-clutter, organize, and perform intensive yard work for older adults and adults with disabilities to allow for them to age in place safely and with dignity. The clients served by the Helping Hands Program in Fairfax are unable to perform these tasks themselves due to physical limitations and are unable to afford the service if purchased privately. Many of the clients being served are at risk of eviction or are already involved in the eviction process due to the condition of their residences. The nine Volunteer Solutions' staff members conduct assessments to identify the needs and coordinate the activities on the day of the project. The program's supplies and services are supported by donations from internal and external partnerships. To date, the Helping Hands program has created 37 partnerships with 757 volunteers giving 3,464 hours, valued at over $88,000. The program has served 112 clients and prevented evictions for 11 clients.

2020 HONORABLE MENTIONS

- Longevity Project for a greater Richmond for its Housing Stability Learning Labs, which equips providers across the sectors of human services with increased knowledge applied to their professional roles, as well as bridge building and relationship strengthening across sectors.
- Senior Connections, the Capital Area Agency on Aging for its Ride Connection program, which ensures older adults and persons with disabilities have knowledge and access to transportation to age in place and live a healthy, socially connected life.
- Central Virginia Alliance for Community Living, Inc. for its TAKE CHARGE: Care Transitions Intervention, a partnership with Centra Foundation, supports older adults who are transitioning from hospital to home with coaching services focused on managing medical conditions and reducing hospital readmissions.

2019 BEST PRACTICES AWARDS

First Place Award ($5,000): GrandInvolve brings older adults into Fairfax County's Title I Elementary Schools to volunteer in individual classrooms, offering their skills and talents to work directly with students. GrandInvolve volunteers regularly work in their assigned schools and engage in a variety of helpful activities designed by the teachers. They work directly with students either individually or in small groups. They assist with reading and math, material preparation, library services, mentoring, kindergarten readiness and after school programs. They frequently assist with evening activities. All these activities support the goal of improving school success for Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS) students. Each school which hosts the GrandInvolve program provides a staff member (usually a guidance counselor) who places each volunteer with a teacher after interviewing the volunteer, and surveying the teachers. Once placed, volunteers come at least once a week for several hours. The volunteer returns to the same classroom each time they visit and their volunteer hours are tracked by the front office. Each school has a lead volunteer – called a School Action Team Volunteer – who works within the surrounding community, recruiting volunteers and setting up partnerships which benefit school goals. GrandInvolve leadership teams have developed plans to expand to all 50 Title 1 Schools in the County by 2024. There are currently 160 GrandInvolve volunteers in 18 schools in classrooms of about 25 students.

Second Place Award ($3,000): The Hampton Roads division of Senior Living Guide is excited to announce The Legacy Sessions, a new project designed to promote understanding and appreciation for our senior citizen population. Thirty two theater students from Salem High School met with 32 senior residents at Marian Manor Assisted Living in Virginia Beach over the period of three separate visits in November and December of last year. The high school students interviewed the seniors on their philosophies and accomplishments in life. Their observations culminated in a program at Salem High School on December 17, 2018. During this time, the students presented monologues as if they themselves were the senior speaking about their life to the audience. The participating seniors from Marian Manor were in attendance and treated to instrumental music, caroling, and holiday hors d'oeuvres all performed and prepared by instrumental, vocal and culinary students at Salem High School. A visual arts department senior student designed the logo and marketing poster.

Third Place Award ($2,000): Senior Connections is actively involved in the effort to help prevent readmissions with a Care Transitions Program in many hospitals within our region with the goal of intervening while the patient is still in the hospital, and continues in the home providing needed resources and support for both the newly released patient and when present, their caregiver. The evidence-based Coleman Coaching Model – Eric Coleman, MD, MPH, and team, University of Colorado Health Services Center - is used to support discharged residents to remain in their homes, while also serving as a link to our agency's services. By using the Coleman Coaching

Model, the coaches are able to encourage the discharged patient to reconcile medication, set a 30-day goal, start of list of questions for the physician and identify red flags to allow him/her and any caregiver assistance to react sooner to avoid another hospital stay. The Coaches also have the opportunity to help the discharged resident access other needed support services through the area agency on aging. She/he might also benefit from home delivery of meals, prescription procedures, and assistance with planning finances and budgets. In addition, Senior Connections can connect him/her to other community resources through programs such as Friendship Cafes that offer nutritional and social aspects of a long-range plan. Thus he/she remains socially connected, an additional health benefit.

2019 HONORABLE MENTIONS

- Fairfax County Neighborhood and Community Services (NCS) for its Senior Center Inclusion Services, which provides support for people of all abilities to participate in activities within 14 NCS Senior Centers. This program has become a change agent in transforming the Senior Center community in Fairfax County to operate with more inclusiveness for people with disabilities.
- Peninsula Agency on Aging for its Memory Café, which provides much needed socialization opportunities for individuals with dementia and their caregivers/partners. The Memory Café is currently offered twice monthly at two locations in Williamsburg and attracts approximately 15-20 individuals and their caregiver/partner each session. In 2019, the program will expand to include offerings in the Hampton/Newport News area.
- Jefferson Area Board for Aging (JABA) for its Open Enrollment Insurance Counselling Mobile Unit, which brings JABA's highly trained volunteer insurance counselors to community hubs in rural areas during the annual Medicare Open Enrollment period. The number of rural seniors served between 2015 (year before Mobile Unit began) and 2018 grew from 307 to 819, a 266% increase. JABA plans to continue to expand the Mobile Unit's reach in future years.
- Appalachian Agency for Senior Citizens (AASC) for its Generations Intergenerational Day Center, which serves children as young as 6 weeks old to seniors over 90 years of age. Generations Intergenerational Day Center offers children the opportunity to take part in carefully selected, supervised activities with senior citizens.

2018 BEST PRACTICES AWARDS

First Place ($5,000): Rebuilding Together Arlington/Fairfax/Falls Church has developed a new delivery system called Rebuilding Together Express to make home modifications and repairs to help many more low-income seniors age in place in their homes. For the past 29 years, Rebuilding Together-AFF has mobilized scores of community partners and hundreds of volunteers each year to make health and safety repairs at no charge to low-income homeowners. But so many older homeowners' need for limited repairs and home modifications to age in place far outstripped capacity to respond. Similar to the supermarket express lane, Rebuilding Together Express offers much faster service for "fewer items." Small teams of 4-5 volunteers typically work 4-5 hours on each home and spend about $400 - $500 for materials to correct 30 health and safety hazards common in older homes. Fall safety is a top priority, with grab bars, double stair rails, comfort-height toilets, and brighter lighting leading the list of repairs. But Rebuilding Together Express also addresses fire safety, security, moisture and ventilation problems, and energy upgrades. Rebuilding Together Express teams completed 35 homes in 2017. Camaraderie among volunteers is steadily increasing their ranks and building capacity will be for at least 50 homes in 2018.

Second Place ($3,000): The Caregivers Community Network (CCN) is a collaborative effort between Valley Program for Aging Services (VPAS) and James Madison University's Institute for Innovation in Health and Human Services (JMU-IIHHS). It is the only program in the state of Virginia which pairs college students with caregiving families to provide intergenerational care and in-home caregiver respite. Students enroll in Issues and Applications of Family Care Giving: Interprofessional Perspectives which is the elective course affiliated with CCN. They are trained to work with older adults, especially those who are frail and who have cognitive impairments. Students are paired and spend 3 hours each week in local homes where they offer respite to caregivers. They work closely with each family to determine the needs and interests of the care recipient, and they plan activities accordingly. While many of our students are nursing and health science majors, CCN's work is a non-medical model and is based on the social and emotional aspects of care.

Third Place ($2,000): The Dementia Care Coordination Program is a model integrated and coordinated care system for individuals with dementia and their caregivers undertaken in partnership between the Jefferson Area Board for Aging (JABA), the University of Virginia's Memory and Aging Care Clinic (MACC), and DARS. The partners developed this program with the aim of creating a replicable best practice for dementia care coordination in Virginia. Individuals with a recent diagnosis of a neurodegenerative process causing dementia (such as Alzheimer's disease) or Mild Cognitive Impairment are eligible for the program. JABA and MACC each hired a Care Coordinator (CC) with backgrounds in health, social work or nursing, and experience in aging, medical or mental health. A comprehensive 30-hour training program was developed using existing materials available through the Commonwealth of Virginia

(alzpossible.org) and the Alzheimer's Association and others. In addition, CCs are certified as Options Counselors under Virginia standards and utilize the statewide No Wrong Door (NWD) tool. CCs provide coordinated care including options counseling, education on dementia, behavioral symptom management training and expert consultation, and eligibility assistance. Both CCs are embedded in the MACC and work in partnership with the interdisciplinary care team.

2018 HONORABLE MENTIONS

The Council gave honorable mentions to the following organizations:

- RVA Reassurance Roundtable of metro Richmond, including: Commonwealth Catholic Charities; Jewish Family Services; Senior Connections, Capital Area Agency on Aging; FeedMore; Office of the Senior Advocate – Chesterfield and Henrico counties and the City of Richmond; VCU Health's Geriatric and Continuum Services; Shepherd's Center of Richmond; Better Housing Coalition; Hanover County Resources; and Greater Richmond Age Wave
- Riverside Center for Excellence in Aging and Lifelong Health, Williamsburg, for Microlearning: Little Message with a Big Impact
- Loudoun County Area Agency on Aging, for its Caregiver Program

COMMONWEALTH COUNCIL ON AGING

2017 BEST PRACTICES AWARDS

First Place Award ($5000): Senior Services of Alexandria's (SSA) Grocery Delivery Program, "Groceries to Go", offers grocery shopping and delivery service to seniors living in Alexandria who are unable to go to the grocery store to shop for food due to a disability or limited mobility. These clients have reached a stage in their lives of not being able to shop independently, do not have the technical capabilities or income to use an online grocery delivery service, and are not yet ready for Senior Services' Meals on Wheels program. Through this program, SSA staff partners with two local grocery stores, coordinates volunteers to shop for and/or pick up groceries from the store, and deliver the groceries with no delivery charge to seniors. At the senior's home, the volunteer helps put away groceries, checks on the well-being of the senior, and assesses whether the client could benefit from additional services from SSA, the City of Alexandria, or other community non-profit organizations. This program is allowing seniors in the community to remain in their own homes longer and with more independence.

Second Place Award ($3000): The Family Caregiver Lunch and Learn Program of the Peninsula Agency on Aging, Inc. (PAA) provides family members the hands-on skills they need to provide safe, quality care for their loved one at home. Developed in partnership with Thomas Nelson Community College, Riverside Center for Excellence in Aging and Lifelong Health and others, the program, based on the Virginia Department of Medical Assistance Services' Certified Nursing Assistant curriculum, provides non-professional caregivers the tools they need to provide the increasingly more complex care they are required to provide such as bathing, med management and skin care to their loved one. Since 2014, the program has been offered as a monthly lunch and learn series, which better meets the time constraints of caregivers. Initially offered in the Williamsburg area, the series was so well received, that in 2016 PAA launched a second series in the Hampton/Newport News area. PAA has also designed a series for local businesses to offer onsite as a lunch and learn to their employees. Businesses have the opportunity to select from a menu of topics that best meet the unique needs of the working caregiver.

Third Place Award ($2000): The Seniors-In-Touch Visit Program was developed in 1997 by the Chesterfield County Sheriff's Office to recognize the special needs of the senior citizen population living in the county and to provide a means to maintain frequent personal contact with them through phone calls and personal visits. The Chesterfield County Sheriff's Office recognizes the contributions and value of these members to our community. To qualify for weekly visits, the member must be a Chesterfield County resident age 65 or older, lack family members living near their residence (within 30 miles), lack strong support from civic or religious organizations and/or exhibit health issues or medical needs. Our senior members receive weekly phone calls from Sheriff's Office personnel to check on general health, plans for the week and any personal needs. Once a week deputies or part-time civilian employees visit for approximately one hour to discuss events of the day and address any needs that have arisen since the most recent phone call or visit. The deputies assist with various needs around the home. For those with limited mobility, the deputy provides physical support for necessary chores. In most cases, these seniors are aging in place and our deputies relay pertinent information to assist them in their desire to remain independent and informed.

2017 HONORABLE MENTIONS

- Patients recently discharged from hospitals are vulnerable to unplanned readmissions due to lack of education about their self-care, medication management, and skills of effective communication with health providers. The Hampton Roads Care Transitions Project (HRCTP), led by Senior Services of Southeastern Virginia (SSSEVA) is changing that scenario as it reduces preventable hospital readmissions/medication issues for high-risk patients ages 60 and older with chronic health diagnoses. Through HRCTP's coaching, of patient and caregiver, and medication management programs, seniors are empowered to advocate for themselves with physicians, pharmacists, and other providers. Patients with chronic health diagnoses better manage their conditions post-discharge and learn to recognize "red flag" symptoms requiring early intervention. This initiative program couples transitions coaching with medication management using Care Transitions® Intervention (CTI) and HomeMeds® evidence-based models for a unique approach in care transitions. SSSEVA works with care transitions teams from Sentara Healthcare, Southampton Memorial Hospital, and supervised doctoral students from Hampton University's School of Pharmacy to deliver interventions and track patient outcomes.
- VAAACares is the statewide expansion of the Eastern Virginia Care Transitions Partnership (EVCTP). Endorsed by the Virginia Center for Health Innovation, VAAACares is an Area Agency on Aging (AAA) collaboration to deliver services for the Commonwealth Coordinated Care Plus population, hospital systems and public and private insurers. The VAAACares program serves as a one-stop shop for comprehensive care coordination, care transitions, and a host of other home and community based services provided by AAAs that support the health and safety outcomes for Virginians with multiple chronic health conditions and disabilities. Improving the likelihood of a successful recovery process post-discharge, and including less risk of readmission requires more than the care at the hospital and doctor's office. To successfully bridge the gap between acute care and community settings, VAAACares coordinate with the patients transitioning from hospital to home or from another care facility to home. Social determinates impact our physical, mental and social well-being. Only by going to the homes and learning more about the patients can we begin to execute meaningful plans of care that lead to 1) successful recovery; 2) reduced readmissions; 3) lower healthcare costs; and 4) improved communication between patients and their primary care providers.

- The Regional Older Adults Facility Mental Health Support Team (RAFT) is a mental health program serving adults, aged 65 and older, in Region II (Arlington, the City of Alexandria, Fairfax, Loudoun and Prince William Counties). The program began in 2008 and supports the discharge of Northern Virginia individuals who are currently psychiatrically hospitalized at Piedmont State Hospital or other local or state psychiatric hospitals or who are at risk of psychiatric hospitalization due to symptoms of mental illness or dementia with challenging behaviors. The program provides intensive, wraparound multidisciplinary mental health treatment to older adults to remain safely in their community setting. The program incorporates evidenced based practices including Integrated Collaborative Care: a team approach involving the individual, psychiatric care,
